OUR MEMBERS

Community

When you say Chamber one word comes to mind – community. It is the largest and most active networking group in Century City, with a hugely diverse membership. It offers tremendous opportunities to get involved as there's an event almost every week of the year.

– Alan Hearty, Allen Matkins

Connections

The Chamber offers connections. It provides opportunities to get to know professionals whose companies are located in Century City, property managers of the buildings, and local business owners. These valuable relationships result in business introductions, partnerships, and resources for clients.

– Gina Guarino, Held Properties

Relationships

In my experience, some of the best professional opportunities that have presented themselves or come about are a result of the Chamber. It offers you the perfect opportunity to develop personal relationships and gain increased visibility for you and your business.

– Chip Bailey, Mandeville Advisors
